HEADS OF RAIL UNIONS SPLIT ON ACCEPTANCE

Wage Award May Go to Referendum in Several Big Unions

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 22.—Heads of the great railroad brotherhoods this morning were divided as to acceptance or rejection of the $600,000,000 wage increase granted by the railway board.

At the close of an all-night session six of the brotherhoods in addition to the Masters, Mates & Pilots of America had expressed their decision as favorable to acceptance, seven favored referring the question to the unions with recommendation that it be accepted, two were undecided and one, the Brotherhood of Railway Telegraphers, had decided to reject the award and was said to be preparing for a strike ballot.

The union chiefs reiterated today that there was no danger of an immediate and concerted strike. They also were inclined to belittle reported efforts of members of the Chicago Yardmen's Association, who yesterday struck in Chicago yesterday, to bring about a general walkout, and declared that sporadic strikes would be fought to the last ditch by the international unions.

Eight Crews at Denver Walked Out

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Denver, Colo., July 22.—Eight switching crews of three men each, representing the entire night force of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad here, quit work at midnight last night. Railroad officials said the men were members of the recently formed railroad union.

Railroad officials said today the entire day shift reported on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, where twenty night switchmen walked out at midnight. The "vacationists" gave no reason, but it is unofficially understood they were dissatisfied with the award of the railway labor board.

The police are assisting him in this campaign, which is under way all over the state.

Pavement Receiving Needed Bath Today

The street department put a force of men to work on the streets in the business section of the city this morning, washing the streets. This is the first washing that the streets have received since early last spring and the action of the department is very noticeable, not only to citizens but tourists as well. The action follows the attendance of a delegation of business men at the council meeting Tuesday evening who petitioned the council to wash the streets once weekly.

Lightning yesterday afternoon struck a shed over a gasoline tank at the Shaws elevator, setting fire to it. Fortunately employees at the elevator extinguished the blaze before it assumed serious proportions, otherwise the gasoline might have exploded and the resultant fire would likely have taken the elevator.

HUNDREDS ASK BRYAN TO MAKE CAMPAIGN ON PROHIBITION TICKET

Was Nominated for Presidency by That Party Late Yesterday

Lincoln, Neb., July 22.—Several hundred telegrams and as many more letters, many special delivery, poured into William J. Bryan's office here today urging him to accept the Prohibition nomination for president. They came from all parts of the country, and the dominant keynote in all was that this was "Mr. Bryan's opportunity to sweep the country" because "people everywhere were disgusted with both the Democratic and Republican parties."

The prohibition party today rearranged its convention schedule pending word from William Jennings Bryan saying whether he would accept the party's nomination. All plans were being made on the assumption that Mr. Bryan would accept.

To Redraft Platform.
The platform committee went back into executive session to redraft the platform so that as its members said there could be nothing in it which would not meet with Mr. Bryan's wholehearted approval.

Chief among the planks being redrafted were those dealing with the League of Nations, agriculture, protesting and commerce. A plank calling for a world tribunal, but not specifically the Versailles league was adopted by the committee. Members reserved the right to offer amendments on the convention floor, however, and indications are there will be a fight.

The agricultural plank pledged the strongest possible support to farmers and that concerning profiteering was a vigorous denunciation of speculation.

POPULAR POLO PASTOR TO GO TO HICKORY, N. C.

Dr. R. B. Peery Resigns Pastorate in Near-by City

Dr. R. B. Peery of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Polo, has tendered his resignation to take effect at the end of August.

Dr. Peery has accepted a call from the church at Hickory, North Carolina, a city of 4,000 population, and will enter upon his duties there September first. He will also occupy the chair of philosophy at Lenoir College which is located there.

Dr. Peery went to Polo from the presidency of Midland College, Atchison, Kansas, eighteen months ago and soon established himself as a preacher and lecturer on a large scale of popularity and a man too large for a city of Polo's size. That he would be called to a much larger field has been evident to his friends for some time.

In his new location his congregation will be a college church whose membership will consist largely of college professors, college students and others who will want the best in every way and it is a certainty that he will get it. Dr. Peery is a student and a thinker, at once sane and progressive.

Dr. Peery is well known to patrons of the Rock River Assembly as during his pastorate at Polo he has taken an active interest and part in the sessions.

CLAMMERS ARRESTED

Four clammers, operating as many clamming outfits, were arrested this forenoon by Deputy Sheriff Phillips and brought to Dixon. They are alleged to have been clamming in Rock river in front of the Thomas Pace farm and it was on his complaint that the arrests were made. Mr. Pace will prosecute.

Missions on Way to Warsaw to Offer Any Assistance

BULLETIN

London, July 22.—Further successes for the Bolsheviks against the Poles in Volhynia and southward are reported in Wednesday's Soviet communique from Moscow.

The statement shows the Bolsheviks have crossed the old Galician boundary line southeast of Lemberg, from which town they are still, however, about 100 miles distant.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, July 22.—The allies have decided to take measures preparatory to giving military aid to Poland, if that should prove necessary, it was learned here today.

A French mission headed by Jules Jusserand, French ambassador to the United States who is home on leave, will leave tonight for Warsaw to arrange prompt succor to the Poles.

On the same train and with the same object there will be a British mission.

These missions, it is learned, leave with full authority to say to the Poles that whatever aid is needed, whether military or financial or in the nature of supplies will be forthcoming if the Bolsheviks persist in a design to march into distinctly Polish territory.

Van Bibber Traced Stolen Automobile

Chief Van Bibber yesterday recovered a Ford touring car which was stolen from the streets of Sterling on the evening of August 27 last year, and delivered the car to its owner, E. E. Stabler, who resides northwest of Sterling near Coleta. The car was found in a garage at Macomb, where the chief had traced it.

Dale Lewis who had the car in his possession claimed to have purchased it last fall from a stranger whom he met near Rio, Ill. The stranger claimed to be a Kentuckian and wanted money to get to North Dakota. Lewis claims to have given him $175 in cash and a second-hand motorcycle in exchange for the Ford.

Chief Van Bibber traced the car to Macomb and went to that place yesterday morning with F. P. Stabler, of Sterling, father of the owner of the car. The Macomb man willingly turned the car over to the chief when he learned that it was stolen property.

SHAMROCK TO DRY DOCK FOR GOOD CLEANING

Resolute's Victory in Yesterday's Race Adds Interest

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 22.—The cup challenger Shamrock IV was towed to dry dock today to have her underbody cleaned in preparation for the fourth race with the American defender Resolute tomorrow. The contest yesterday in which the two sloops went over the thirty mile course in exactly the same elapsed time, has added marked interest in the other contests to come.

Captain Burton, Designer Nicholson and Navigator Claude Hickman of the Shamrock, were especially pleased with what they agree was a wonderfully fine race yesterday, even if the challenger lost it on time allowance.

The race tomorrow will be over a triangular course, and it is in this contest that Shamrock is expected to force the Resolute to the limit, as the legs of the race will be reached at which point of sailing the Lip-ton sloop has shown to her best advantage. The Resolute remained at her moorings today.

HARDING'S SPEECH PLEDGES RETURN TO CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT IF HE'S ELECTED

Republican Nominee Declares for National, Not World Ideals, in Accepting Party's Nomination

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Marion, O., July 22.—A pledge of constitutional government, administered by party and not by individual and based on national rather than world ideals was given by Warren G. Harding today in accepting formally the Republican nomination for the presidency.

He welcomed a popular referendum on the league of nations, advocated increased production to cut the high cost of living, pleaded for obliteration of sectional and class conflict, and declared for industrial peace "not forced but inspired by the common weal."

Desires Suffrage
Prohibition he gave only a passing notice, saying that despite divided opinion regarding the eighteenth amendment and the statutes enacted to make it operative there must be no evasion in their enforcement. He declared it his "sincere desire" that ratification of the suffrage amendment be completed to permit women to vote this fall in every state.

Reviewing and commending briefly many other planks of the party platform, the candidate declared collective bargaining for farmers, repression of the disloyal, "generous federal co-operation" in rehabilitating the railroads, intelligent definition of the currency, enlargement of government aid in reclamation, a genuine expression of gratitude to veterans of the world war, the maintenance of an ample navy and a "small army but the best in the world."

For Party Government
In his promise of "a party government," Senator Harding reiterated his belief that the Vice President should have a part in the affairs of the chief executive's official family and declared there also should be a "cordial understanding and coordinate activities" between the executive and Congress. "No man," he said, "is big enough to run this great republic. Our first commitment is the restoration of representative popular government under the constitution, through the agency of the Republican Party."

Promising restoration of peace as soon as a Republican Congress should send a peace declaration to a Republican President for his signature, the candidate assailed the league covenant as brought home by President Wilson but declared the war's sacrifices would be "in vain if we cannot acclaim a new order, with added security in civilization and peace maintained."

"We Republicans of the Senate," he continued, "when we saw the structure of a world supergovernment taking visionary form, joined in a becoming warning of our devotion to this republic. The Republicans of the Senate halted the barter of independence American eminence and influence."

Not Holding Aloof
"We do not mean to hold aloof. We do not mean to shun a single responsibility of this republic. We were resolved then even as we are today, will be tomorrow, to preserve this free and independent republic. Let those now responsible, or seeking responsibility, propose the surrender, whether with interpretations, apologies, or reluctant reservations—from which our rights are to be omitted. We welcome the referendum to the American people on the preservation of America."

"With a Senate advising as the Constitution contemplates, I would hopefully approach the nations of Europe and of the earth, proposing that understanding which makes us a willing participant in the consecration of nations to a new leadership, to commit the moral forces of the world, America free, independent and the best."

BELFAST SCENE OF SANGUINARY FIGHT IN NIGHT

Sinn Fein and Unionist Mobs in Fatal Combats

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Belfast, July 22.—Rioting was renewed in the Falls area of West Belfast during the mill dinner hour today. The postoffice was wrecked and the police fired on the rioters. In the melee a soldier and several civilians were wounded.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Belfast, July 22.—Belfast this morning was quiet after a night of sanguinary fighting between Sinn Fein and Unionist mobs, but the situation was tense and the military with armored cars were patrolling the affected areas.

Casualties thus far recorded are two men and one woman killed and twenty persons with serious gunshot wounds.

The primary cause of the trouble is believed to be the recent murder of Colonel Smyth in Cork, as many men employed at Belfast come from Balmbridge, which was Smyth's native town.

This morning the workers returned to the ship yards as though nothing happened, although the trouble was started in the yards yesterday after a number of Sinn Fein employees had been attacked.

Unofficial estimate places the property damage and looting done by the mob at 100,000 pounds.

NOTIFICATION CEREMONY AT MARION TODAY

Thousands Greet G. O. P. Candidate, All are Jubilant

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Marion, O., July 22.—The Republican campaign got under way today with the formal notification here of Warren G. Harding, the party's nominee for the presidency.

The notification ceremonies, which brought mention most of the big leaders of the party and many thousands of Harding enthusiasts, included an acceptance speech by Senator Harding interpreting the Chicago platform and declaring the principals on which he expects the campaign to be fought out.

The acceptance speech came to an end of along program in which high pitched enthusiasm ruled the day as the visiting delegation marched on the Harding residence in unbroken succession to be received by the candidate.

Senator Raised Flag.

At seven o'clock in the morning a noisy aggregation of Marion citizens that looked like half the town led off with a demonstration that set a mark for the out-of-town folks to shoot at. To their howling acclaim the Senator played the leading part in a flag raising, pulling the Stars and Stripes to the top of the weather-beaten McKinley flag pole sent here a few days ago from Canton.

Delegation after delegation, with danda blaring and colors flying followed up to the Harding front porch as thirty special trains and thousands of automobiles unloaded. Not content with showing themselves to the nominee they reformed and marched and counter-marched through the city in a riot of noise and color.

Partisanship Forgotten.

Business in Marion was adjourned and partisan ship was forgotten. From the Senator's to the heart of the business section a lane of tall white pillars marked the route of the parades and flags and bunting displayed in carnival profusion in every street.

Painstaking arrangements had been made to provide a luncheon for the crowds, and improvised sandwich stands were everywhere. Profiteering had been put under the ban by agreement of the city's business men.

His Old Band There.

One of the delegations to whose coming Harding looked forward with keenest anticipation was a brass band from Caledonia, his boyhood home. It had been pieced together by his old associates of the days when he played the trombone.

The purple and gold of the women suffrage cause made its appearance in the gathering crowds but a plan of the women to picket the notification ceremonies was abandoned. During the morning the Senator had appointed to receive a delegation from the National Women's Party who wanted him to aid in securing action by the Tennessee legislature on the suffrage amendment.

A feature of the day was a luncheon given by Dr. C. E. Sawyer, at his farm on the outskirts of Marion to the members of the Republican national committee and the notification committee.

Big Day's Program.

Will H. Hays, the national chairman was the presiding officer at the notification for which the city had refitted its chautauqua pavilion. The program included an invocation by Bishop William F. Oldham of the Methodist Episcopal church, the formal notification speech by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, chairman of the notification committee.

Fire at Ogle Co. Home Yesterday A. M.

Fire which evidently caught from sparks in the roof of the main building at the Ogle County Home, threatened the building for a period of three quarters of an hour Wednesday morning. An alarm was turned in to the Ogle County department and the chemical truck and some ladders were rushed to the burning building. The long ladders owned by the city came just in the nick of time, as no ladders of sufficient length to reach the blazing cupola were on the farm. The farm is equipped with a splendid high pressure water system and as soon as the streams of water were gotten on the building the flames were checked. The damage will amount to several hundred dollars.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Wheat Stronger as Corn Mart Dropped During the Morning

Chicago, July 22.—Reports that there was a heavy demand for cars to move wheat tended today to renew bullish sentiment as to that cereal. Besides, welcome additional rains were falling in the Canadian belt where moisture had been lacking. Continued news of damage by black-rust had a slight bullish effect at the opening, but only of a transient sort. Initial prices which varied from the same as yesterday's to 1/2c higher, with December 2.56 1/2 to 2.57 were followed by a little further advance and then by a decided setback to 2.54 December.

Absence of aggressive buying weakened corn. After opening 1/4c off to a like advance including September at 1.32 to 1.33, the market hardened somewhat and then sharply declined. Oats sagged with other grain. Prices started about unchanged, September 76 1/2 to 77c and soon turned downward. Provisions ruled dull and heavy, influenced by lower quotations on hogs and grain.

Gov. Lowden Desires Simple Life on Farm

Governor Frank O. Lowden spent last week with his family at Sinsissippi Farm and enjoyed every minute of the time. The governor has no grievance whatever at the result of the recent convention in Chicago. On the contrary he feels that a great favor has been visited upon his in the nomination of Senator Harding in the Presidency. Already he is counting the days when he can return to Sinsissippi Farm and complete the development that he has planned. He says that when he gets back on the farm he will not again allow himself to be pried loose by the glamour of politics, regardless of how large or small the inducement.

HARDING IS NOTIFIED IN RIOT OF NOISE AND COLOR TODAY

Senator Harding's response and benediction by Father Joseph M. Denning, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church here. A glee club came from Columbus to lead the assemblage in singing the Star Spangled Banner and America.

The Marion Boosters cheered the Senator until he said:

"I am going to make my speech later in the day but I cannot let you go without saying how deeply I am touched by this tribute from the home folks."

Members of the Hamilton Club of Chicago, presented the candidate with a resolution giving him honorary membership in the club. In response he declared their ought to be a similar Republican organization in every great city.

"We do not give enough attention to our politics," he added, "for good government ought to be the first business of every citizen. And I think you do not pay enough attention to party; in this country we have had too much of the rule of the individual and not enough of the rule of the great masses."

To Many To Reach.

Long before noon the delegations began to tramp on one another's heels and the candidates had to abandon hope of shaking hands with all those who came.

He got an extra round of applause from one delegation when he led Mrs. Harding down the steps and presented her as "the head of this family."

One of the show spots of the procession was the American Republican club of Pittsburgh who marched in flowing black capes and high grey stovepipes and carried star spangled parasols.

If one uses a front porch as a summer living room, it is necessary to give the floor and furniture daily attention.

Porch chairs often play havoc with immaculate white skirts, so it just means extra work for someone if the seats are not properly cared for.

In the first place, be sure that there are no heads of nails or screws exposed. It is inevitable that a piece of metal that comes in contact with more or less weather shall become rusted.

When dusting, use a damp cloth after brushing thoroughly with a broad paint brush. The brush removes the loose dust and the damp cloth finishes the work, leaving a clean surface.

Menu for Tomorrow.

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, French toast, sirup, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cold sliced meat, olives and radishes, mock angel cake with chocolate frosting, tea.

DINNER—Veal birds, creamed potatoes, vegetable salad, green peas, vanilla ice cream with chocolate sauce, coffee.

My Own Recipes.

Sometimes one has an egg yolk or two and doesn't know what to do with them. This chocolate frosting made with the yolks instead of the whites of the eggs is very good and a bit "different."

CHOCOLATE FROSTING.

1 1/4 cups sugar,
1/2 cup water,
2 egg yolks,
1 1/2 squares Baker's chocolate,
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Boil sugar and water until a soft ball is formed when the sirup is dropped into cold water. Beat yolks of eggs. Pour sirup in a fine stream onto the egg yolks, beating constantly. Melt chocolate and pour the first mixture into it. Beat until cool and add vanilla. Spread on cake.

CHOCOLATE SAUCE.

1 1/2 cups sugar,
3/4 cup milk,
2 squares Baker's chocolate,
1 teaspoon vanilla,
1/2 teaspoon salt.

Mix salt with sugar. Dissolve sugar and milk and bring to a boil without stirring. Grate or shave chocolate into a cup and melt with some of the boiling sirup. Stir into boiling sirup and cook till a soft ball is formed when dropped in water. Remove from fire and stir in vanilla just before serving. If the chocolate is melted this way the sauce will be perfectly smooth.

IN SEARCH OF COMFORT OR FASHION OR BOTH—WEAR A SMOCK

ANITA STEWART AND A FEW OF HER SMOCKS

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK—Smocks—everybody knows they are the last word in hot weather comfort. Besides, they are one of the last words in fashion nowadays, too.

But it takes Anita Stewart to top the list of smock enthusiasts. For variety of materials and unique designs, she can scarcely have competition.

Georgette and Linen

There are smocks of georgette, of crepe de chine, of tricolette, of linen—may more, of satin, and some of velvet. In anticipation of colder days. They may be adorned with fanciful decorations, such as the one Anita Stewart wears in the upper right hand corner of the illustration. Peacock embroidery in gay colors covers the front of this georgette smock. Beside it is a more durable creation of creamy tan linen with deep cuffs, collar and belt edged in blue embroidery. Circular pockets are the background for odd tropical birds of brightest blue with rose crests.

Baskets of Flowers

Or the smock may be of severe plainness, such as that at the left, below. Of Nile green georgette, its only trimming is a silver beaded edging around the neck and bottom of the smock. At the right is one of crepe de chine on the front panel of which is embroidered in gay silks a flower basket filled with bright flowers.

"HUSTLERS"

Frank Dilnot always had heard in England that Americans are a nation
of "hustlers."

He imagined everything and everyone in this country ran with electric energy at high nervous tension. For that matter, this idea of America is accepted by a great many persons in the United States.

Dilnot came here, and was disillusioned. He has written a book about it.

He says he found time the cheapest commodity in this country. He noted the carefully measured activity of elevator men. He noted the calm detachment of the man from whom he bought a railroad ticket. He found service in stores and hotels slower than in Europe.

Dilnot visited Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago. The joke of it is that he found things paced faster in middle-western cities than in New York.
His observation is that "Nobody is in any hurry in New York."

His explanation is that Americans are able to earn a living with less effort than the crowded people of Europe.

Dilnot, however, returns home convinced that, in a sense he did not have in mind when he came here,
Americans are "hustlers."

He discovered a widespread willingness to try new methods, and experiment with new ideas. An activity of mind rather than of hands and feet.
"The result," he says, "is that in some directions wonderful effects of efficiency are secured in the United States."

"HE"

After the 36th state has ratified woman's suffrage, one shred of comfort will remain for those who still view with dismay the entrance of women into political equality.

These may find some satisfaction in the fact that the Constitution of the United States will continue to speak of the president as "He" even though some future president may be
"SHE."

"He," says the constitution, describing the authority of the president, "shall have power, by and with the consent of the Senate, to make treaties," etc.

"He shall from time to time give to Congress information of the state of the union," etc. "He" may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses

Nowhere in the Constitution did the good fathers specify that the president must be a male person, but they took it for granted that a president of the United States could be nothing less.

They did not contemplate the possibility of women voting or, least of all, qualifying politically for the presidency. And, doubtless, there are prophets today who will say that even though politically qualified, the president never will be SHE, but always HE, as ordained by the fathers.

Yet who, ten years ago, would have made so bold as to say that in 1920
SHE would be among the members of the national committee of a major political party and that SHE would be making nomination speeches in the national conventions?

"HE," says the constitution concerning the president, "shall hold his office during the term of four years."
HE will continue to hold his place in the constitution but SHE may actually hold the job some day.

It's a waste of words to discuss the

FLIES.

The house fly Musca domestica,
which represents over ninety per cent
of those found indoors, deposits probably on hundred and fifty eggs at a time. Only ten or twelve days elapse between the dropping of the eggs and the appearance of the full-grown insects. The females of the new brood in turn begin to lay their eggs in a few days after birth.

The development of the fly is similar to that of the mosquito. First eggs are deposited; within twenty-four hours these are hatched and larvae appear; after a further period of five to six days the latter pass to the pupal stage, and from this to the full-grown fly in three to six days.

The larvae are well known as "maggots," and are about one-fourth to an inch long. They are white crawling bodies, having the appearance of caterpillars. They are commonly found during the warm weather upon almost any manure heap, dead animal or other decomposing substances.

Flies will breed wherever there is any kind of filth. Carelessness regarding manure heaps, garbage and other forms of decomposing matter is responsible for the constant annoyance of flies in farmhouses and country homes.

Unfortunately, the public has not a very clear understanding as to the means by which flies may be eliminated, or the object sought in carrying out this important sanitary measure.
Innumerable poisons, fly catchers, and "swatters" are on sale, devised for the purpose of trapping or destroying flies. While these are very popular,
they have little or no practical value,
for, as in the case of the mosquito,
the extermination of flies can be successfully accomplished only by the destruction of their breeding places.

Such is Life

BY O. B. JOYFUL

It used to be long ago, that Squire Abner Harpington was possessed of very radical tendencies.

Ab was Red. Not pink, but a deep-dyed red. He was for taking everybody's property. (Ab had none) away and dividing it. He was for outlawing work, and insisted it should be a prison offense for a banker to refuse anybody a loan.

Ab was no parlor Bolshevik. He trained with the proletariat that cluttered up Hank Bluffin's General Store and Dry Goods Emporium. That bunch of Bolsheviks were ag'in everything that hadn't been tried.

But all this happened before a flock of capitalistic slaves struck oil
on Abner's farm.

Then Abner ran for office and served brilliantly and well as justice of the peace. He cleaned out Hank Bluffin's store and made the motley crowd of agitators go to work. He was director of the bank and joined the board of Trade.

Ab now is one of the most respected men of his community. Last week he was elected president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Sparrows, and headed the committee of mill owners who appeared before the Legislature protesting against the denial of the right to work under age of 14. . . .

In 1930, or thereabouts, there'll be a meeting of male citizens over the age of 21 to inaugurate the movement for Equal Rights.

There'll be a few brave leaders who'll point to the enslavement of manhood, and demand a fifty-fifty deal, equal wages with women workers, and the right to drive the family flyver one afternoon a week.

There'll even be some talk about why in the world can't a man get elected to a few of the minor offices.

Just thirty years ago a distinguished American remarked:

"The sun may freeze up into a solid ball of ice; the moon may skyrocket into a million pieces and the oceans may run dry, but the day will never come when our mothers and sisters will forsake the womanly sphere of home for the noisy, unpleasant arena of public affairs."

There's no surer way of getting the future generations to think you were a wise guy than by not predicting what is going to happen tomorrow.

the fairy landlord, if he wouldn't like to take the rent out in trade, Ting-aling hardly knew what to say, because, you see, he had to hand his rents over to the Fairy Queen, and, if Oliver made him a new suit, he couldn't very well send his old one in the big pocketbook with the rest of the money and say, "This is Oliver Oriole's rent!"

She'd think Mr. Tingaling had suddenly lost his senses, and, sure as tomorrow is Tuesday, she'd send another fairy landlord to the Land-of-Dear-Knows-Where, and our little fat friend would be out of a job.

"Why don't you wish to pay me the money?" asked Tingaling, answering Oliver's question by asking one himself.

"Because I haven't any, or very little," answered Oliver.

"No money!" exclaimed Tingaling.
"Why, as Nick and Nancy and I came along your branch, the bark was worn clear off by your customers. I jingled.

"I'll declare!" cried he, "aren't you the smart one, though! How did you guess what I needed? I'm getting so stout from being asked out to meals that I need about six gussets. I'm sure the Fairy Queen wouldn't mind that, for she agreed to keep the liveries of all her helpers in repair."

So Oliver Oriole measured Ting-aling while the twins looked on.

(Copyright 1920, by The Newspaper Enterprise Association)

Katherine Miller Finished the Weird Tale Begun by Gene Archer

"The situation was deucedly weird.
I confess that I didn't like it myself,
and nobody can call me a superstitious
chap," ran the last page of Archer's long letter. "I was glad when Certeis took advantage of that insane sailor's spectacular exit to break up the seance. We actually had to shake the Russian dandy to bring him back to our commonplace world.
The poor fool kept calling on Rasputin for further instructions, but that devil had ducked—gone back to hell, I take it. At any rate the tripod on the ouija board refused to budge."

"I don't see why ouija controls can't come back from hades as well as paradise, and the next time I get close to one I'm going to ask if the chances are fifty-fifty."

"I guess I was the only one who happened to notice Miss Miller in the midst of the confusion. I certainly must hand it to her as some little traitor of conspirators. The plot she had come so far to get was in her hands. As I recast it, on the first of this letter, it seemed astonishingly simple, but you must remember that I have condensed the full account of
it."

"The idea is there, and it backs up a heap of evidence which has crept out of Russia and Germany by various ways. More than one modern philosopher has warned the world that a coming league of nations will include all the peoples between the Rhine and Vladivostok! Maybe we'd better get used to the idea, for, believe me, kaiserdom has not perished
from the earth even though the old kaiser straddles a chair and smokes in Holland when he isn't working at his woodpile."

There Gene Archer ended, to get his letter onto the mail steamer, he explained. So it happened that our next news came from Katherine Miller. Her letter was addressed to Robert. "Your sister is not prostrated by the events of yesterday," she wrote,
"but she is awfully busy nursing the injured man. She has asked me to write to you and Archer to tell me that he has already mailed you the first chapter of the tragedy. I hope I can make the denouement clear to you."

"You and Jane will understand that Rasputin was a fake, invented by me, partly as a joke, partly to discover what effect the name would have on the two Russians. I found out, didn't I? The result nearly scared me stiff for the younger man went quite out of his head and laid his subconscious mind bare for all of us to gaze upon. And the other conspirators, although they heard him give away

the big plot, didn't dare to stop him
for fear of giving themselves away!
It was some seance, I do assure you,
and I wish Jane Lorimer had been looking on."

"But I can't gloat over the catastrophe which followed."

Chrys kept the party to dinner, of course, and she took great pains to apologize for Sandy's presence and his conduct; and she told the strange story about his transient fits of madness at sound of the word "war." She said that she would ask the captain to assign him to a particular job he liked; if Sandy were permitted to run the power boat, his mind would snap back to normal in an instant,
she explained.

"After that it didn't surprise me to see Sandy McCall in command of the motor boat when the threatened storm had shifted south of us and our guests were ready to go over to their own ship.

Dear Mr. Lorimer and Gene Archer
were to stay on board the 'Blue Bird', and the next day their baggage was to be sent over from 'The Argentine'.
Then we would sail. After that seance,
the harbor was no place for me, at least. I have an idea that the Russians were to take the staterooms

on 'The Argentine' which had been vacated by the two Americans.

"As I said, I was extremely surprised to see Sandy McCall ready to run the motor boat, and I think Certeis was astonished too. But he never flinched. He simply motioned the Russians not to object. And they took their places, and we leaned overboard, and waved them good-night,
and hoped that they wouldn't get wet,
and they replied that they couldn't because the run across to 'The Argentine' wouldn't take ten minutes.

"The rain came down very suddenly, as rain often does in the tropics, and we had to flee to the cabin, where some one said that it was a good thing to have Sandy in charge of the power-boat. Once his course was set, Sandy would run alongside the other yacht in the dark, if any man could do so.

So we sat down to bridge, but we

If You Would Save

You hear a lot of talk these days about not buying clothes until prices come down; that prices have reached the pinnacle and
are due for a fall.

That would be good news
indeed—good for all of us.
But unfortunately, it isn't based on facts. Cost of production is higher if anything; wholesale prices are rising. Good merchandise is very scarce.

what way prices are going.
Protect yourself in buying
the clothes you need now.

Now you can save because of these feature prices that we are giving due to a special purchase of a manufacturer's surplus and late deliveries. These suits are worth from $7.50 to $15
more than the prices quoted.

Railroad Situation

Declaring railway employees ought to be best paid in the world, the candidate emphasized the responsibility of such service and added:

The government might well stamp railway employment with the sanctity of public service and guarantee to the railway employees that justice which voices the American conception of righteousness on the one hand and assures continuing of service on the other."

In his reference to prohibition and law enforcement he said:

Prohibition Enforcement

"People ever will differ about the wisdom of the enactment of a law—there is divided opinion regarding the eighteenth amendment and the laws enacted to make it operative—but there can be no difference of opinion about honest law enforcement. Modification or repeal is the right of a free people, whenever the deliberate and intelligent public sentiment commands, but perversion and evasion mark the paths to the failure of government itself."

Notification Made

By Henry Cabot Lodge

Senator Harding was officially notified of his nomination by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who said:

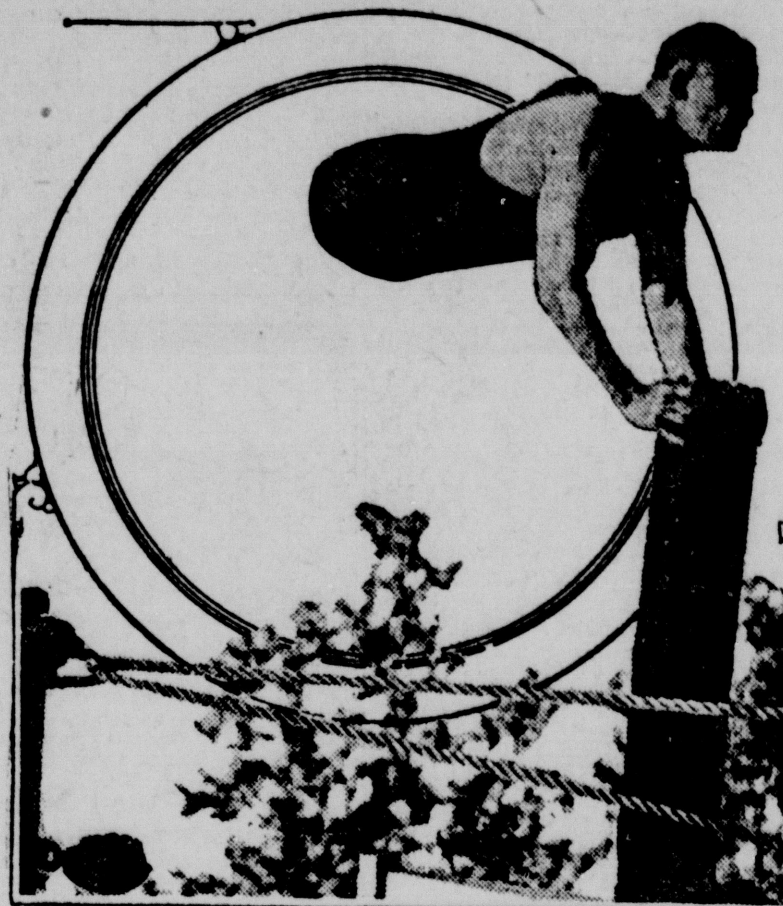

We are assembled here as a committee representing the States, Territories and possessions of the United States to make to you formal announcement of your nomination for the office of President of the Republic on June 12th last, at Chicago, by the Republican National Convention. This duty is to us as pleasing as it is honorable, but we are also deeply conscious of its far-reaching importance. We fully appreciate that what you say to us today will not only be read and pondered by all the American people within the confines of the United States but also by all other civilized nations. Here today you will chart the course to be followed by the Republican party in the great electoral contest which lies before us and will declare your purposes and those of the party you lead when the authority of Government is once more committed to our keeping.

We await this declaration untroubled by any doubts and with the most entire confidence. All who are familiar with your character and career and most especially those who have taken part with you in public service know beyond a peradventure that you are a patriotic American, imbued with the spirit of the great leaders of the past, of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt, whose services to the American people have become forever memorable in our history. You will always, and instinctively, in meeting the difficult questions and weighty responsibilities which confront you, think with complete unselfishness of your country and your country's interests first, a high qualification for an exalted office not too familiar to us of late and therefore peculiarly necessary at this moment. You will, we are certain, be ever faithful to the finest traditions of the Republican party and at the same time, we are equally sure that you are wisely tolerant and open-minded, in sympathy with the best movements of the time, looking forward to the future and its needs never unmindful of the great basic principles upon which the builders of the Republic laid the foundation of our Government. Your public life has shown to us and all your fellow citizens that you believe in the system of Government designed by the framers of the Constitution. They established a representative democracy and had no sympathy with any scheme which would turn the Government of the United States into an autocracy based upon a plebiscite and with all the intervening representative features disregarded or effaced. You have abundantly shown your unwavering conviction that the Government of the United States should be one of laws and not of men and that the three branches of that Government should all work together in the exercise of the powers conferred upon them severally by the constitution, for the common purpose of advancing the general welfare of the people. The makers of the constitution intended to co-ordinate the three great elements of Government and strove to guard against either usurpation or trespass by one branch at the expense of the other two. In that spirit, we all know well, you will enter upon your great responsibility.

Domestic and economic questions of extreme complexity and difficulty must be dealt with at once in such a way as to meet the needs of the time. We shall not attempt to discuss these questions in any detail because we know that you will declare your policies in regard to them in accordance not only with the life-long principles of the Republican party but also with the opinions recently declared by the Republican Convention at Chicago. It is not for us to enumerate them to you, for it is to you that we look to set forth the proper policies to be pursued by the Republican party both in the campaign and when charged with the responsibility of administration and legislation. Our immediate duty and that of all Republicans and all true Americans who are thinking of the problems and perils of the present and of the future is to give you such generous and complete support that when you take up the duties of the great office for which you have been nominated, you will find a House and Senate in full sympathy with your purposes and ready to aid you in every way in carrying them to fulfillment.

The present situation, however, brings with it far-reaching questions of foreign policy to a degree never known in our previous history. At our own doors we have Mexico in a state of disorder and disintegration to which our Government, has unhappily, most liberally contributed. Here is a grave responsibility not to be evaded or escaped. We rightly insist upon the supremacy in the American Hemisphere of the Monroe doctrine, which was declared by us in order to guard the safety of the United States and save the New World so far as possible from the wars and misfortunes of the Old. We justly demand the abstention of Europe from any interference with American questions, but this doctrine of ours brings

THE INVINCIBLE VETERAN

A compensating feature of the human wreckage of war is the conquerable spirit of the soldiers in overcoming the insurmountable obstacles, the loss of serious impairment of their faculties. An example, without duplication, perhaps, is the diving exhibition of Lieutenant R. S. Fletcher, of Plainview, Texas, who is an expert swimmer notwithstanding both of his legs were severed from his body in service overseas.

The photograph above shows this invincible veteran, after having mounted a 15-foot diving tower unaided, preparing to plunge into the pool at the Walter Reed Hospital.

Washington, D. C. His remarkable performance was completed without a mishap, as the audience observed with wondering astonishment and repeatedly cheered the victor of such a marvelous feat.

Lieutenant Fletcher has been a patient at a government hospital for twelve months, the wreckage in the crucible of battle necessitating the amputation of both of his legs. This irrecoverable loss is not a deterrent to a heroic spirit which climbs a 15-foot diving tower without assistance, and dives into the waters of the pool. Another contest staged at Walter Reed Hospital has developed an exhibition whereby a one-legged soldier races 50 yards in 55 seconds.

with it not only its benefits but its duties. The condition of Mexico, owing in large measure to the shortcomings of our Government, could not well be worse, and we must make up our minds that we not only owe it to ourselves to protect there, as all over the world, American rights and interests so long neglected, but to reach out a helping hand to the Mexican people to the end that law and order may be established in that country which has been plunged into anarchy and cursed with continuous civil war. It is of the highest importance to the United States that Mexico should be both prosperous and peaceful and we must face the fact that without our aid the Mexican people cannot properly or speedily bring about the improved conditions and the reign of law and peace, which, we are convinced, they desire as much as we do.

In defense of freedom and civilization and to vindicate our own invaded rights we entered upon the war with Germany and although we were tardy in taking part in that great conflict we came upon the field of action in time to turn the scale for right and liberty. Not content with aiding Europe to bring to pass the peace which all desired after victory was won, Mr. Wilson undertook to make us members of an alliance with foreign powers indefinite in extent and containing provisions which threatened the independence, the sovereignty and the safety of the United States. This effort on the part of the President was arrested by the action of the Republicans of the Senate who proposed protecting reservations which he defeated together with the treaty itself. In that work, you, sir, took a conspicuous part and we know that you were in full accord with the belief of your Republican colleagues that the League of Nations as proposed by Mr. Wilson and upon which he and his party still insist ought never to be accepted by the American people. We have been and are quite ready to join in agreement with other nations, for the extension of the Hague Conventions; for the upbuilding and codification of international law and the establishment of a world court of justice; for international conferences in regard to nonjustifiable questions, and for arrangements to bring about a general reduction of armaments. All these constructive measures are in accord with the traditional policy of the Republican party which has done so much in the past to forward the cause of international arbitration. But when we are called upon to become an integral part of a permanent alliance of foreign powers, to put ourselves in a position where the youth of the country can be summoned by foreign nations to fight and die in quarrels not their own, to entangle ourselves in all the conflicts and disputes of Europe where we have no interest, to permit foreign interference with our domestic questions and with the Monroe Doctrine, and to sit in an assembly where our vote is not the equal of that of every other country, we absolutely decline the proposition. We stand for the policies of Washington and the doctrine of Monroe, and against the internationalism and the permanent alliance with foreign nations proposed by the President. If the world needs us as they needed us in 1917 we shall not fail in our duty, but we can help other nations far better if we are free and untrammelled and do not permit our strength and our resources to be wasted and worn away and the lives of our young men to be sacrificed in endless hostilities with which we have no concern. Such has been the policy of the Republican party as represented in the Senate and such its policy will remain. We are certain that you who helped so largely to frame this policy will when the executive authority comes into your hands, carry it out in such manner that we can fulfill all our responsibilities to the world without binding ourselves by any obligations to a League which as submitted by the President is but another name for the evil combination which was attempted a hundred years ago by the ill-omened Holy Alliance. No national campaign for the presidency has ever involved graver issues than this one, which now lies before us. Upon you, sir, will rest the great duty and heavy burden of executive authority. We look to you in full confidence to lead us and the people of our beloved country out from the darkness and confusion which the war has brought upon mankind into the light which shines upon a nation where peace reigns and the love of justice, of law and of order rules in the hearts of the people. Then we can again take up the work of advancing the United States along the broad road that leads to success, the road which we have followed for more than a century. Then indeed we shall not only rise to still loftier heights of achievement for ourselves, but be enabled to render the largest and finest service to humanity.

LAKES-OCEAN ROUTE ISN'T SELFISH PLAN

Promoters Claim Benefits for Entire Nation

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Detroit, July 22.—Demanding development of the upper St. Lawrence river to provide an open waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic, fifteen hundred delegates representing every section of the country, assembled here today for the opening session of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence tidewater congress.

Speakers will urge development of a tidewater route as a means of relieving congestion at eastern ports and developing the middle west.

Among speakers on the program are: Charles K. Anderson of Chicago, officer of the American Manufacturers Export Association, and Governor Harding, of Iowa.

The annual meeting of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, with a membership in 14 central and western states, will be held Saturday.

Detroit, Mich., July 22.—The proposal to link the Great Lakes with the Atlantic by making the upper St. Lawrence river navigable is not a sectional, selfish movement, but one so broad and fundamental that it is a national necessity, said H. C. Gardner of Chicago, president of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association, speaking here today at the opening session of the Tidewater Congress.

After reviewing the work of the association and the efforts of the International Joint Commission, that during the past several months has held hearings in Canadian and American cities, Mr. Gardner declared the future work of the association rested in education of the people of the two countries to the benefits that might be derived from the proposed improvement of the St. Lawrence.

"Development of the river will bring necessary relief to millions of Americans and Canadians," Mr. Gardner said. "Power will be developed, industry and agriculture made more secure, and 100,000,000 tons of coal saved each year."

"The American people and their law makers must be made to realize that opening of the St. Lawrence is an economic necessity."

Mr. Gardner pointed out that 14 states now are actively interested in the deep waterways project.

Hearings of the International Joint Commission, Mr. Gardner said have shown a desire for the waterways improvement on the part of practically all citizens in the Great Lakes district.

"It is expected that further hearings before the commission will develop additional facts with regard to the present transportation blockade and the crying need for relief," Mr. Gardner concluded.

FARMERS MEET TO PLAN MEANS FOR MARKETING

Nation-Wide Organization to Handle Own Products

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, July 22.—Plans for the marketing of grain and live stocks will be formulated by the American Farm Bureau Federation in a two-day conference which opens here tomorrow. Delegates representing farmers' co-operative organization throughout the country, state farm bureaus, state grain dealers' associations, farmers' unions, societies of equity and state granges are expected.

The meeting is the result of several conferences held by the middle west grain marketing group. J. W. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation called the meeting for the purpose of nationalizing the new marketing system.

"We have two or three plans to consider," Mr. Howard said, "but the main one is to organize the local grain interests into an overhead organization, making it possible for the wheat growers to have control of their grain until it reaches the manufacturer."

"Just last year the consumer paid $50,000,000 for the handling of 27,500,000 bushels of grain that were sold on the Chicago market in a speculative way."

Tire Treads
Improved 25%

The latest Miller triumph is a super-grade tread. It excels the best rival treads today by an average of 25 per cent. This has been proved, under careful watch, by many road comparisons.

The Miller Tire mileage is the talk of the day. But these new-grade treads outwear the balance of the tire.

Not one Miller Tire, built with this new tread, has ever come back with the tread gone.

These treads do not vary. Every day the Miller tread stock is vulcanized and tested in the laboratory. It must prove up to these new standards before a tread is made.

Miller Cord Tires, in the factory tests, now average 15,000 miles. Miller Fabrics from 8,000 to 9,000 miles. And these factory tests are extreme.

Watch your mileage on one Miller Tire. Compare it with any other and it will win you. You owe that to yourself in view of Miller records.

Judge Makes Erroneous Prediction Regarding Lawyer

The Chicago Journal remarks: "Tuberculosis alone cuts down the average lifetime of people in this country two and one-half years, and there is every reason to believe that tuberculosis can be abolished."

"About one clean shirt is all I thought he would ever wear. He had fallen away to a mere shadow; was as yellow as saffron and often doubled up with pain. Doctors continually gave him morphine and were about to operate for gall stones. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy quickly restored him to perfect health again." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. SHAVING BRUSHES ARE DANGEROUS

Anthrax Carried in Bristles

It has been found that germs of anthrax are often carried to men, through the bristles of shaving brushes. Many instances of infection have been brought to the attention of the authorities, and these have been traced directly to the brushes used by the victims in shaving. In several cases where the first indication was in the form of a pimple or scratch on the face, traces of anthrax have been found and the patients have afterward died of the disease.

Great care should be exercised in this direction.

The safe way is to use a beard softener that requires no brush, no lather, no rubbing. Such a preparation can be found in Barbasol, which nearly every drugist sells, and which will eliminate all risk of infection.

If your drugist hasn't it, it will be mailed to you on receipt of price (35 cents) and drugist's name. Made only by the Napco Corporation, Indianapolis, Ind.

The Next President

OF THE UNITED STATES WILL BE A POLICY-HOLDER OF THE

NEW YORK LIFE

This is a statement, not a prediction. How the votes will turn out we have no means of knowing. But the unusual and interesting fact is that the Honorable Warren G. Harding and the Honorable James M. Cox are both policy-holders in the New York Life Insurance Company. Mr. Harding insured with us in 1889. Governor Cox insured in 1903, and again in 1911.

The Next Vice-President

OF THE UNITED STATES, WHICHEVER WAY THE VOTE GOES, WILL ALSO BE ONE OF

OUR POLICY-HOLDERS

The Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt insured with us in 1909, and the Honorable Calvin Coolidge insured with us in 1901, again in 1904, and again in 1909. It looks as if men who are big enough to be President and Vice-President of this great country were sensible enough to insure with the New York Life.

Simply Worn Out

How Many Women Are Like This?

Can anything be more wearing for women than the ceaseless round of household duties? Oh! the monotony of it all—work and drudge; no time to be sick; tired, ailing, yet cannot stop. There comes a time when something "snaps" and they find themselves "simply worn out," and to make matters worse, have contracted serious feminine disorder which almost always follows the constant overtaxing of a woman's strength.

Then they should remember that there is no remedy like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—the experience of these two women establishes that fact:

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—"After the birth of my baby I had organic trouble. My doctor said it was caused by too heavy lifting and I would have to have an operation. I would not consent to an operation and let it go for over a year, having my sister do my work for me as I was not able to walk. One day my aunt came to see me and told me about your medicine—said it cured her of the same thing. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and they have cured me. Now I do my own housework, washing and ironing and sewing for my family and also do sewing for other people. I still take a bottle of Vegetable Compound every spring for a tonic. I recommend your medicine to others who have troubles similar to mine and you can use my letter if you wish."—Mrs. F. A. Parsons, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The Hairless Underarm
IS a necessary feature of every modish woman's toilet. When she wears the dainty, filmy gown of Georgette or other sheer material, decreed by the mode, she recognizes the importance of removing the hair from the underarms. The effect of an exquisite costume is often spoiled by the presence of unsightly hair.

Superfluous Hair Removed by HAIRGO

HAIRGO eradicates hair quickly and readily, leaving the skin soft and smooth. It obviates the unsatisfactory use of a razor and because it is free from corrosive substances it is absolutely harmless. The cork stopper is a sign of its non-corrosive character.
